WELCOME TO COPPERSTONE

ACT PREPARATION

Misti-Dawn Curry, M.Ed
Director of School Services

Dear Students and Families,

At Copperstone Education, we understand that every student's path to college is unique. While the SAT® is often the first test that comes to mind, the ACT® is an equally respected and widely accepted college admissions exam—recognized by every U.S. university and by many institutions worldwide. For students who excel in fast-paced, curriculum-based testing and prefer a more direct question style, the ACT® can be a powerful alternative to the SAT.

Our ACT® Prep program is built on one principle: excellence. Copperstone Education's elite-level ACT® ACT subject matter experts are not just tutors—they are mentors, strategists, and coaches who bring years of proven success in guiding students to top-percentile scores. We go beyond simply teaching content; we equip students with precision strategies, time management skills, and the confidence to perform at their absolute best on test day.

Whether your goal is to boost your college applications, secure scholarships, or simply open more doors for your future, our team is here to ensure you have every advantage. With Copperstone Education, you're not just preparing for a test—you're preparing to shine.

Warm Regards,

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT THE ACT®

? What is the ACT® and why should international students take it?

The ACT® is a U.S.-based standardized college admissions test accepted by all U.S. universities and many institutions worldwide. Strong ACT® scores can enhance your application, demonstrate academic readiness, and in some cases, qualify you for merit based scholarships.

? How is the ACT® different from the SAT®?

While both tests are used for U.S. college admissions, the ACT® includes a Science section and often has a faster pace. Copperstone Education's expert instructors help students decide which test aligns better with their strengths through diagnostic testing and strategic counseling.

? How do I register for the ACT® as an international student?

Registration is completed online at the official ACT website. During registration, you'll choose your country and preferred test center. We recommend registering early, as seating at international test centers is limited.

? How much does it cost to take the ACT® internationally?

As of now, the ACT® costs $68 USD (without Writing) or $93 USD (with Writing) plus an international testing fee of $68 USD. Additional charges apply for late registration, test changes, or extra score reports. Check the ACT website for the most up-to-date fees.

? Where can I take the ACT® outside the United States?

The ACT® is offered at authorized international test centers, which may include international schools, U.S.-curriculum schools, or universities abroad. You can search for a location near you during registration.

? How often is the ACT® offered internationally?

International ACT® testing is usually available in October, December, February, April, June, and July, although not all dates may be offered in every country. Plan ahead to align your prep schedule with available dates in your region.

? What identification do I need on ACT® test day?

A valid passport or national ID card is required for international students. The name on your ID must exactly match your ACT® admission ticket.

? How do I send my ACT® scores to universities?

When you register, you can select up to four schools to receive your scores at no extra cost. Additional reports can be sent later through your ACT® account for a fee.

? How should I prepare for the ACT® as an international student?

Copperstone Education offers personalized ACT® prep with elite-level, U.S.-based teachers who understand the unique challenges faced by international test takers. Our instructors specialize in building the skills needed for U.S.-style reading passages, analytical reasoning, advanced math, and the ACT® Science section, ensuring you are equipped to perform at the highest level
